

By using this website, Respondent agrees to the following:

Mission Roll Call Privacy Policy for Data Collection

This Privacy Policy applies to all products, services, websites, and applications provided by Mission Roll Call (MRC). We refer to our products, services, websites and applications as “services” in this policy. Any individual, unit, business, or organization that interacts with our services is hereby referred to as the “Respondent”. Further, “data” in this Privacy Policy refers to any information to include survey responses, form data, data received or inserted by or in reference to the Respondent.

MRC collection of Respondent data includes, but is not limited to, Respondent contact information, name, address, telephone number, email address, military connection, physical/mental/emotional health information, education information, housing information, financial information, information about services received by the Respondent from other organizations/entities usage information, device and browser information, as well as log data.

MRC may collect information from third parties where Respondent has given permission to those third parties or where Respondent has made that information publicly available. To aid us in certain aspects of our services we use affiliates, trusted key partners, and expert consultants to assist us in providing services to Respondent. MRC will share Respondent data with third parties for the purposes of gathering and indexing data, educating about and advocating for veteran services, and providing services to Respondent. Respondent hereby grants MRC permission to share said information for the aforementioned purposes.

Further, MRC will use Respondent contact information to respond to inquiries that you, the Respondent, have made, and MRC will provide information about our services to Respondent by means of the provided contact information. MRC will collect information about the types of questions you as the Respondent answer, and we will examine patterns of response. Our legitimate interest is to gather the opinions and thoughts of veterans and seek continuous improvement of veteran quality of life. We may analyze usage patterns to improve user experience, improve services, and identify data trends.

Respondent personal information obtained and held by MRC is maintained within a reasonable standard of care. Any access or use of Respondent personal information is limited strictly to those people and purposes required by program or operational needs to access Respondent personal information. All employees, contractors, consultants, and agents of MRC are required to comply with the terms of this privacy policy and any applicable nondisclosure agreements signed by the individual parties, and failure to do so could result in disciplinary or legal action.

In the event of security breach or unauthorized release of data, Respondent agrees that MRC will not be liable for any injury that Respondent receives as a result of said security breach or unauthorized release. MRC will not assume liability for any act of a third party, and by participation in MRC services, Respondent waives any liability of MRC for third party actions. MRC reserves the right to disclose personal information as we deem necessary to satisfy any applicable law, regulation, legal process, or governmental request. MRC operates in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.
